

Brant S. Talesnick

Brant Talesnick focuses his practice on banking and finance and commercial real estate finance, representing commercial banks, institutional lenders, investment banks, private equity investors, and loan servicers in a broad range of transactions. His experience includes permanent and bridge loan originations, construction financing, mezzanine and other subordinate debt, as well as loan participations, syndications, co-lender arrangements, and letter of credit facilities.

His practice also includes advising clients on middle market transactions and financing matters involving the health care industry, public and not-for-profit sectors, and specialized asset classes, including art finance and fine art lending. He also regularly represents clients in connection with commercial leasing transactions.
